

Eating Chinese:
Global and Local Perspectives on Food and Memory
April 4th & 5th 2008

Friday, April 4, Brown University, John Nicholas Brown Center, 357 Benefit St, Providence, RI

1:00 to 3:30 pm

What's "Chinese"? Food & Identity (Cuba and Canada)

Screening followed by a conversation with film maker Cheuk Kwan, Evelyn Hu-Dehart &
John Eng-Wong

JNBC Library

4:00 to 5:30 pm

Restaurants, Food and Memory

Panel Discussion with Mark Swislocki, John Chan, Ellen Leong Blonder, discussants
Robert Lee and Lingzhen Wang

JNBC Library

6:00 to 7:30 pm

"The Chow Mein Sandwich:" Chinese" in Local Perspective"

Exhibit Opening and Demonstration

JNBC Courtyard and Kitchen

Saturday April 5, Johnson & Wales University, Harborside Campus, Providence, RI

1:00 to 2:00 pm

Gallery Opening

- "Culinary Beginnings – Asia"
- "Illustrations from Every Grain of Rice"

Culinary Arts Museum
315 Harborside Blvd

2:00 to 3:30 pm

Globalizing Chinese Cuisine

Panel Discussion with Kenny Lao, Cheuk Kwan, Jacqueline M. Newman – moderator John Eng-Wong

Culinary Arts Museum

3:30 to 4:00 pm

Break – Tea, almond cookies, fruit.

Culinary Arts Museum

4:00 to 5:30 pm

A talk with Martin Yan/ Susan Smulyan and a Cooking Demo featuring Martin Yan****

Tyson Amphitheater
Harborside Academic Center
Johnson & Wales University

Dumpling Reception follows at the Culinary Arts Museum

*These event by reservation only. Contact Sarah Cresta at the Culinary Arts Museum.

Books, publications and films of program panelists will be available for sale (cash or check) at the John Nicholas Brown Center and the Culinary Arts Museum.

Jointly Sponsored by the Center for the Study of Race and Identity in America, the John Nicholas Brown Center for American Studies, both of Brown University, and the Culinary Arts Museum of Johnson & Wales University